

I like Brave Private Browser best in browsers manly that are not lightweight, and I think it is best because it handles anti-add function very well. It is relatively faster than most of the non-lightweight browsers, and most of all, I like its UI well; it's pretty much the same as Chrome, but it's fantastic.